Howard Nusbaum is the Administrator of the National Salvage Vehicle Reporting Program (NSVRP) a leading not-for-profit law enforcement support organization chartered to promote efforts to support all efforts to control automotive theft.

The National Salvage Vehicle Reporting Program (NSVRP) is a leading not-for-profit law enforcement support organization dedicated to reducing auto theft, title fraud and abuse, and for helping to control criminal activities related to the exportation of stolen and fraudulently obtained vehicles. NSVRP works closely with the Department of Justice, the FBI, Customs and Border Protection and other parties to help further these objectives. In addition, NSVRP is recognized by the US Department of Justice as an independent third party standards body for NMVTIS, the National Motor Vehicle Title Information System (NMVTIS) which was created as a result of the Anti-Car Theft Acts of 1992 and 1996.

Mr. Nusbaum is a member of the Federal Advisory Board for the National Motor Vehicle Title Information System (NMVTIS). He has been a member of the board since its inception.

Mr. Nusbaum is also Vice Chairman of the North American Export Committee and chairs the NAEC international data standards committee. He has been honored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for 'Exceptional Service in the Public Interest', and has received the NAEC chairman's award for his efforts in support of NMVTIS.
